

SANGUINARY DEED.

The Crimson-Covered Conveyance of the B. & M. in Nebraska.

The Watchword of that Road.

The finest thing in the shape of a deed that was ever filed in the county clerk's office of Douglas county, was handed in to Hon. J. R. Manchester Thursday afternoon to be filed and recorded. It was the "Deed of Conveyance from the Burlington and Missouri River Railroad Co. in Nebraska to the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Co." Such was the inscription in gold letters upon the back of a heavy red Turkish morocco book, about six by twelve inches in size and a quarter of an inch in thickness, whose covers closed together with a substantial flap, or tongue, which made it almost air-tight. The leaves of the book are of unruled parchment, and the deed and acknowledgments, covering thirty pages, are closely written in old English script. It is the latest kind of a document, and bears date of July 26th, 1889. It conveys to the C. B. & Q. railroad company, "for the purpose of more completely carrying into effect the articles of consolidation executed between the parties, January 1, 1880," for the consideration of $1, all the real estate and lands, contracts and choses in action, railroads and branches and the equipment thereof, all revenues to be derived therefrom, rights of way and structures thereon, and other property pertaining thereto, all losses of railroads and other property, all ferries and bridges and the approaches thereto and revenues therefrom, and all the other property the B. & M. had, or has since acquired, at the time of the execution of the articles of consolidation.

B. AND M. NOTES.

"On to Denver," is now the watchword with the B. & M. folks. Should the weather prove favorable this winter, they will close much of the route between Indiana and the beautiful city on the plains. The work will be done almost entirely by homesteaders along the line of road; the company deeming it advisable to give the poor homesteaders a chance to keep the wolf from their doors this winter. [Lincoln Journal.]

The B. & M. railroad company paid into the county treasury of Howard county last Friday the sum of $8255.

The B. & M. round-house at Lincoln is approaching completion.

A rumor from semi-official sources is that some time next month a morning train will be placed on the B. & M. railroad. It is to start from Lincoln at about 6 o'clock and run to Omaha, for the convenience of persons intending to make connection with the C. B. & Q. railroad for Chicago, and for those desiring to do business in Omaha. It will be an important addition to the facilities for travel on this road.

RAILROAD RACKET.

Through the kindness of J. T. Clark, general western agent of the Northern western agent, we are in receipt of a beautiful circular printed in colors, which shows a map covering 3,000 miles of that celebrated road, a Maltese cross and a cut of the handsome depot now being erected in Chicago, corner of Kinzie and Wells streets. From its appearance the spot will be one of the finest buildings of its kind in the country.

One hundred and fourteen cars of stock came in over the U. P. to-day.

The annual record of pews taken place in the Presbyterian church this evening.

A NEW COLLEGE.

Approaching First Term of the Nebraska School of Medicine.

The announcement is made of the first course of instruction at the Nebraska School of Medicine, preparatory to open on the 18th instant in this city and continue twenty weeks. The nature of this new enterprise may best be gleaned from their catalogue which says that: "It is the mature judgment of many of our leading physicians, as well as prominent citizens of other business pursuits that the time has arrived for the establishment of a medical school in our state. After deliberate consultation as to the demands and the available means of conducting such an enterprise, the school has been organized under the name and title of 'The Nebraska School of Medicine,' and located at Omaha, a city of upwards of thirty thousand inhabitants, and growing rapidly, supported by a state with five hundred thousand people, and with well established commercial relations existing between the city and adjoining states and territories.

The school for the present will be preparatory simply, but the instruction given will be thorough in all the branches. Each chair will be represented by men of experience and ability in their respective departments. Students will be brought into close relation with the instructors, thus affording every possible means for thorough instruction.

A number of eastern schools of medicine have established graded courses and allow students who are far enough advanced to enter higher classes; hence students in the west can attend our school for one or two terms and then be admitted to advance their studies at other schools when their proficiency will warrant such advancement."

The faculty is as follows: R. R. Livingston, M. D., president, lecturer on principles and practice of surgery; Samuel D. Mercer, M. D., lecturer on surgical anatomy and clinical surgery; Omaha; A. S. V. Mansfield, M. D., lecturer on pathology and practice of medicine; Ashland; George B. Ayres, M. D., secretary, lecturer on anatomy; Omaha; J. O. Davis, M. D., lecturer on physiology and clinical medicine; diseases of eye and ear, Omaha; P. S. Leisner, M. D., lecturer on obstetrics and diseases of women and children; Omaha; Richard C. Moore, M. D., lecturer on materia medica and therapeutics; Omaha; (chair to be filled soon), lecturer on chemistry; W. S. Clark, M. D., demonstrator of anatomy, Omaha.

CHEAP RATES.

To St. Louis and return $12.25, to Exposition. Tickets on sale from October 2nd to 11th, inclusive at Omaha and St. Louis through line ticket office, 1020 Farnham street.

W. C. Seachrist, Ticket Agent.

sep30-2t

POLICE COURT.

Judge Hawes Takes His Victims Through a Course of Sprouts.

Business was light at police court yesterday morning.

Two men who had a misunderstanding over a bill presented by one for payment were fined $3 and costs each, which they paid.

W. H. Turnum, a colored man, was arrested for cutting with intent to kill, but his case was postponed until 4 o'clock this afternoon. Turnum was arrested about midnight last night by Officers Black and Bellamy, at his lodgings on Seventeenth street. It appears that about 9 o'clock in the evening he, in company with a white woman of easy virtue, entered a gilt edge house on Tenth street, between Douglas and Dodge, kept by a white woman. It is claimed that both were intoxicated, and Turnum being ordered away by the woman of the house, Josie McGregor, suddenly drew a razor and struck at her, cutting an ugly gash on the left side of her face, the blade cutting in to the jaw bone. The wound was dressed by Dr. Ayers, of the Surgical Institute, and was pronounced not dangerous. Turnum is a hard citizen and has already served a term in the penitentiary for cutting Scott Jackson. He may go up for another year for this.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The court rose at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, displaying to the audience a fine array of talent, artists of acknowledged ability, with Pat O. Howes as interlocutor, and Fred West and Chas. Worrent acting as counsel men. Several original comedies were proposed, to which satisfactory answers could not be given.

Both men danced off jail to the tune of $3.00 and costs, they having been adjudged guilty of intoxication, contrary to the rules of the management.

Adolf Hammotta, aged 60, was interviewed on the same subject, but being of lawful age, he was let down easy. The management discharged him, however.

Mollie Kernan favored the audience with an old song, "I was not drunk nor disturbing the peace."

"Three dollars and costs" was effectively rendered in response by Pat O. Howes.

Several other members of the troupe were charged by the management with a violation of the rules; but the investigations were postponed until afternoon.

Mr. Ed. Haskell, of Chicago, the celebrated Fingert Billiardist, will give an exhibition of his skill at Brunswick Billiard Hall, this evening, and play a thousand points, or no count. After the game is over he will give an exhibition of Fancy Shots, including balls, rail, triangles, bottles and glass shots, and many others too numerous to mention. Also fancy shots with cue. All gentlemen invited.

Funeral of the late Robert E. Davis took place at 12:30 p. m. yesterday, from his father's residence, southwest of this city, Rev. John Williams, of St. Barnabas, officiating.

The remains were sent by the northern route to Alton, Illinois, for interment.

Pursuant to a call published in The Bee a meeting of young men of this city, with whom he had been intimately associated, was held Wednesday evening, to express their sorrow at the funeral of the young man, and before whose mandate came every one must bow. The Hon. C. V. Gallagher was called to the chair, and a committee of five, consisting of R. T. Berlin, Fred Gordon, John Nash, J. F. McCartney, and C. M. Kotter, was appointed to represent the young men at the funeral. On motion it was decided that all young men who can possibly do so would be present at the ceremonies, to pay their last respects to his sterling character as one of our representative young men, and to express their personal sympathy for the bereaved family who has overtaken his family.

Dead.

Mary O'Brien, wife of John O'Brien, on Sept. 28th, at 11:30 a. m. Funeral on Sunday, Oct. 3rd, from her residence, California street, between 12th and 13th.

Hamburg Figs 25c a box

Everybody Says So.

All the boys who go to Schuyler are happy to find Harry Ackley back again at the Upton house, and in better shape than ever before, having renovated, refitted, enlarged, etc. Harry as a host is a success, while his better half, who precedes over the entire, cares for the inner man in an eminently satisfactory manner. Their many old friends among the traveling public will please take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Meteorological Summary.

For the month of September, 1889, station, Omaha, Nebraska.

Highest barometer, 30.808.

Lowest barometer, 29.560.

Mean range of barometer, 0.748.

Highest temperature, 85.5.

Lowest temperature, 21.6.

Mean daily range of temperature, 26.5.

Mean of maximum temperature, 72.6.

Mean of minimum temperature, 55.1.

Mean daily range of temperature, 17.5.

Prevailing direction of the wind, south.

Total movement of wind, 6,721 miles.

Highest velocity of wind and direction, 24 miles north.

Number of foggy days, none.

Number of clear days, 11.

Number of fair days, 14.

Number of cloudy days on which no rain fell, 1.

Number of rainy days on which rain or snow fell, 10.

Number of days on which rain or snow fell, 10.

Dates of lunar halos, 14th.

Days of frost, 29th.

S. M. DEY.

Sergeant Signal Corps, U. S. A.

Why does "ourselves" use natural medicines, when a purely artificial cathartic will cure you at once—Hamburg Figs. Try them.

INNOCENTS ABROAD.

The Entire Democratic Party of Nebraska Assemble at Hastings.

And Hic, Hic, Hurrah for Hancock, Livingston and Mother Tipton.

A Motley Array of Moss-Backs.

Correspondence of The Bee.

HASTINGS, Neb., Sept. 29, 1889.—To-day on the way to the train was laid with delegates to the democratic state convention, and republican orators who to-night take the stump in the opening of the campaign in the different towns along the line of the B. & M. and branches. The railway eating houses in Lincoln was unable to feed the immense crowd who were ushered from one part of the state to another to-day. As in all such crowds, many pleasant and amusing little incidents occurred, by which the day will ever be remembered.

Gen. Cowin, Gen. Madison, Gen. Crockett, J. L. Webster, C. J. Greene, et al. were abroad, and as the train drew up at Sutton, where Greene is to speak to-night, Greene stepped off, and as his foot struck the platform, the Sutton band began to play a lively air, and most of the people on the train thought it was in honor of him as a greeting.

His friends quickly gathered around him, and commenced complimenting him upon his magnificent oration, when the band quit playing, and Lebew, one of the delegates from Sutton to the democratic state convention, stepped out and exclaimed, "Hurrah for Hancock!" Greene's hat dropped an inch lower on his head, and the band boarded the train to attend the state convention.

There are present 250 members, and the gallery, which was reserved for ladies, is respectfully filled.

The convention was called to order at 8 o'clock by J. Sterling Morton, who nominated Frank P. Ireland, of Otoe county, for temporary chairman, and Nat. W. Smith, of Dodge county, for temporary secretary, and they were unanimously elected.

After a preliminary speech by F. Ireland, an address of welcome was made by Saul L. Brass, of Juniata, Adams county.

This was followed by songs from the glee club.

Motion was then made that a committee of seven be appointed on credentials, when C. V. Gallagher immediately read the following names to the convention: Harmon, of Franklin; Boyd, of Douglas; Abbott, of Saline; White, of Cass; Burich, of Sarpy; Reynolds, of Butler, and Flynn, of City.

While the committee on credentials were out a motion was made that we adjourn till to-morrow, and Gen. Hancock himself a Methodist, and actually proceeded to sing both in theology and politics, and he was always glad to see sinners come forward to the altar. He was a man of the people of Nebraska. The sum of $200,000 is paid annually to support our state government when half that amount would be sufficient. The people of the state know how the money was being stolen and wasted they would rise in their might and hurl the party in power out of the positions they disgrace. Mr. Boyd said much more to the same effect, and then introduced as the speaker of the evening, Hon. Geo. E. Pritchett, democratic candidate for attorney-general, who was named speaker.

Mr. Pritchett said that, while the republicans had run the government since 1860, the democrats had from 1860 to 1890. He had elected their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when Lincoln was elected by an unknown and unorganized sectional party, it had found itself attacked on both sides, and the only way to save the country was to put it back to the old party, and the only way to do this was to elect their president, except in 1840. That they had managed the country's affairs well could not be denied. They had brought it safely through two foreign wars, and a long length, when